Housing

Tips and Tricks:

Apartments are often listed in the yellow pages of the phone book. Try checking the apartments' website for local listings, rent prices and who is accepted. Phoning each apartment building to ask for vacancies is a great place to start. Often landlords know of upcoming units available or have open units before they are ever listed. Taking the initiative and phoning before waiting for a listing gives you a head start.

Some Real Estate companies also have rental units or are aware of rental agencies in the area. Try looking up some local Real Estate agencies in the yellow pages or online and phoning to ask if they deal with rental units also.

Online postings are also a great way to find out about available rental units, try Kijiji, rentboard.ca, gottarent.com and reddeer.rentspot.com

The Red Deer Housing Team puts out a weekly housing package with a list of rentals available. You can pick this up from The Women's Outreach, Canadian Mental Health, and Family Services of Central Alberta.

Affordable Housing & Supports

Red Deer Housing Authority (RDHA).....403-343-2177

RDHA administers 309 community housing units located in Red Deer, Sylvan Lake and Innisfail, as well a rent supplement programs for Red Deer, Sylvan Lake, Rocky Mountain House, Innisfail and surrounding areas.

The Rent Supplement Programs have been established by Federal and Provincial Governments to help address the housing need throughout Alberta. The amount of assistance is based on household size requirements. Subsidy maximums are listed are their website. To qualify, applicants must be Canadian Citizens, independent landed immigrants, or government sponsored landed immigrants. Assets and belonging cannot exceed $7,000. The program is open to people who are renting a legal suite (e.g. apartment, duplex, townhouse). Total household income cannot be more than the maximum income limits permitted under the program (see website for table). Applicants must provide verification of their current income and proof of their rent (i.e. lease agreement). You will be placed on a waiting list based on priority of need.

Feeding Yourself and Your Family

Ways to save:

Meal Planning. Planning out your meals in advance and creating a grocery list for the items you need can save you loads of money. This makes sure you are buying foods that have a purpose, saving you from buying items you don't need. Try to plan meals that share similar ingredients so one item can make several meals. When you are making your grocery list, look in flyers and try estimating how much each item will cost so you have a rough idea of how much you will be spending. It also lets you make adjustments to your shopping list to fit your budget before you get to the grocery checkout.

Try to buy less prepackaged foods. You often get more bang for your buck buying the ingredients to make the meal yourself, you will most likely end up with leftover ingredients that you can put towards making another meal.

Make food a priority! Food should always be at the top of your list when planning where to spend your money. Food is more important than a cell phone bill, cable bill, cigarettes or other items that you could live without. You can't live without food, it's a fact.

R-Own Food Co-op403-347-2480

Join a food co-op! The Outreach Centre has a monthly food co-op for $25 a month. Here's how it works, you give them your $25 and they do all the shopping. On the pick-up date you get a food hamper that contains 3 fresh vegetables, 2 fresh fruits, a starch, and 3 lbs hamburger, pork and chicken. Because they buy in bulk and then split it up between all the people who order, you end up with more food than you would usually get for $25 at the grocery store. Pick up between 11am-2pm at the Salvation Army Church (4837 54 Street). Dates vary for pick-up call, email or see their website.

womensoutreach.ca/services/r-own-food-co-op/ | 4101-54 Ave, Red Deer, AB T4N 7G3

Despite the delivery charge online shopping can alleviate the need for transportation to and from the grocery store allowing shoppers to access sales and food otherwise unavailable in their area.

Sobeys Village Mall Grocery Delivery403-347-4600

Call in your order and it will be delivered in Red Deer with a $6 delivery charge.

Yes there are places like the food bank where you can go for food that doesn't cost you anything, but these are for emergency situations. If you find yourself using the food bank on a regular basis, that's a sign you may need to make some changes to your income, expenses or spending habits. Don't be scared to ask for help to make these changes.

Emergency Food Assistance and Meals

The Red Deer Food Bank.....403-346-1505 (hamper request)

Call during office hours to have your needs assessed. Eligibility is determined on a case by case basis and will require proof of income, number of people in household and personal ID. If approved, clients are given a hamper pick up time. At first pick-up, clients are required to provide photo i.d., proof of income and proof of address. For children, bring Alberta Health Care card or birth certificate. Subsequent pick ups will only require ID. Keep in mind, the Food Bank is only a supplementary service intended to augment the grocery bill for individuals and families. As such, food hampers will not provide all necessary groceries for a family and the number of hampers per clients is limited.

Financial Assistance

Where will the money come from?

Not having enough money to cover your bills or even your basic needs can be a very scary and stressful thing. There are some one time emergency assistance that can help you get through times when money is tight. There are also strategies and resources you can use to prevent yourself from getting in a financial bind over and over again:

Pay attention to where you are spending your money. Write down everything you spend money on for a month and see where you are actually spending. You may be surprised at how much you are spending on non-necessity items such as smoking or taxis.

Make a plan. Write down where you plan on spending your money. It's important to make sure you take care of your costs for rent, utilities, food and transportation before planning to spend money anywhere else.

What happens if there is no money left over after paying rent, bills and groceries? Or what if there isn't even enough money to pay rent? There are only two things you can do...try to make more money or choose to lower your living costs.

Get creative! Sometimes increasing the amount of money you have means you need to be creative. Sell things you don't use or need, do odd jobs for people such as yard work or babysitting or try collecting bottles.

Ask for help. Find a friend, family member or agency that can help you brainstorm ways to change your financial situation and provide tips on how to manage your money.

Filing your taxes up to date can also provide you with additional income from GST cheques, Child Tax credits and other government benefits. Your online guide to Government benefits: for a customized list of federal, provincial and territorial programs and services visit: www.CanadaBenefits.gc.ca

Clothing and Household Necessities

Some suggestions...

Try looking online for free or cheap clothing and household items, popular places to look are Kijiji, Freecycle.org, trader’s post on the radio and online buy and sell facebook groups. Don’t get discouraged if you don’t find your items posted, try posting a “Wanted” ad asking for what you need.

Red Deer has designated “Kick it to the Curb” days where people are encouraged to place unwanted items on their front lawns for anyone to pick up for FREE. Look on the city of Red Deer website for the next Kick it to the Curb day.

Think about if it’s an item you need to have or if it’s an item you would be able to borrow. If it’s an item you will only need for a limited time, try asking friends or posting online to borrow. Red Deer has a facebook page where people can request to borrow a specific item from community members; neigh*borrow red deer on facebook.

Finding Childcare and Child Care Subsidy

Finding safe, suitable and affordable childcare isn't always as easy as it seems. There are a few steps you can take to help you find the childcare you need and apply for financial help with paying the costs of child care.

Step 1: Determine what type of childcare you are most comfortable with. Some people may choose to have a babysitter, friend or family member come into their home, or others prefer a dayhome or a daycare. Whatever method you choose is up to you, however there are a few things to consider if you would like to apply for child care subsidy.

Only approved dayhomes, licensed daycares, licensed out-of school care, licensed preschools and kin care will qualify for subsidy. So this means, in order for you to apply for daycare subsidy, your child's place for care needs to be licensed or approved. Or if you choose a babysitter, you will only qualify for subsidy if the babysitter is a relative (this is called Kin Care).

What is the difference between a daycare and a dayhome? Basically there isn't a lot of difference in the care provided between a quality licensed daycare and a quality approved dayhome. A dayhome is run out of the providers home, snacks, meals and daily activities are planned and provided. A daycare is run out of a facility or centre and also plans meals, snacks and daily activities. A dayhome usually has one staff, the person whose home it is while a daycare typically has several staff. This is because a dayhome usually has fewer kids than a daycare. The more kids, the more staff that's needed.

Step 2: Now that you know what you are looking for it's time to start looking for childcare. Think of what is important to you, when looking for a childcare provider. Does your child have special needs? Is it important to you that they have nap time? Healthy snacks? Make a list of what you feel your child needs and what you would like the child care to provide for your child.

Look at the list of needs and wants you created for childcare and make a list of questions you could ask when researching your childcare options.

To find childcare, try a Google search! Try searching Red Deer Daycares or Red Deer Dayhomes. You can also look in the phone book or on Kijiji. Keep in mind they need to be licensed or approved in order for you to receive subsidy.

You can also contact your local Child and Family Services office for a list of places (403) 340 – 5400 or go online to <http://www.humanservices.alberta.ca/oldfusion/ChildCareLookup.cfm> Here you can search for childcare, and view any incident or inspection reports the daycare/dayhome has had.

Step 3: You probably have a few options now that you are considering and places to call. Phone the child care provider and ask your list of questions, the monthly fees and if they have a spot open. They will want to know the ages of your children and when you plan on starting care. If they have no spots open, ask to be put on the waitlist.

It's a good idea to phone several providers and place your child on several lists, this will increase your chances of an open spot becoming available for child care. Make it a habit to phone the providers back every few weeks to see if a spot has become available.

Once a spot becomes available, ask about the registration process and fees needed up front to hold your child's spot. AFTER your child is registered you can then apply for subsidy. Let the provider know that you will be applying for daycare subsidy.

Step 4: Apply for subsidy.

Your child needs to be registered in a daycare/dayhome and have a start date BEFORE applying for subsidy. However you can go online to:

<http://www.humanservices.alberta.ca/financial-support/15104.html> and have an estimate of how much subsidy you may be eligible for at any time.

You can apply for subsidy online, by mail or submit your application in person. To get an application form go to: <http://humanservices.alberta.ca/financial-support/15669.html>

or go to the office and pick one up: 4826 Ross St, Red Deer, AB

You may need to provide the following information with your application: Identification for yourself, your spouse and all children under the age of 18. Notice of Assessment from last years tax return, don't worry if your income info has changed, this can be taken into consideration. Proof of income and confirmation of employment or confirmation of registration as a student.

Step 5: Waiting to be approved. Once you have submitted your application, your application should be processed in approximately 10 business days. You will receive a letter in the mail stating whether you've been approved or denied, the daycare subsidy start and end dates and the amount of subsidy you are eligible for.

If you have been approved to receive subsidy, the subsidy office will pay the amount you've been approved for directly to your childcare provider.

You will be responsible for paying the remaining costs. For example: Tammy's daycare fees for 1 month are $700. She has been approved for $400 of daycare subsidy. The subsidy office will pay this $400 directly to the daycare. Tammy is responsible for paying the daycare the remaining $300.
